

PUPP Newsletter

February 2019

Helga has found a big, warm, comfy pillow in her new home.

Things are going really well with Penny. Yesterday was her first day eating 2 cups of food. When I went to work she didn't want anything to do with the crate, so I left her out. She did fine except for a few bent mini-blinds. I need to remember to leave the blinds up so she can look out. She is a doll! Is responding well to commands and comes in from the rain when called. Looking forward to better temps so that she can get a walk before and after work. Thanks again for all of your help getting this sweet girl!

Elvis has left the building and is happy with his new family.

Teddy and Simon's Mom loves them so much that she received a gift from her Mom of socks with their pictures on them.

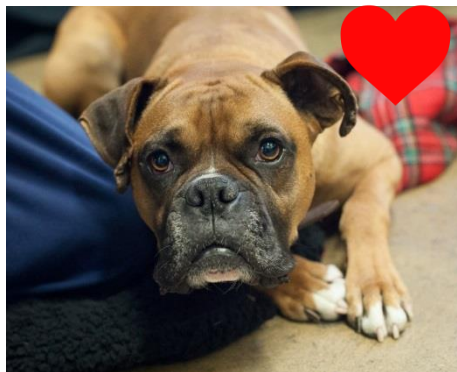

Tyson and his new sister Miley.

Griffin found his forever home last week and is already loving his new canine sister Daisy! His new family reports he's been quite her shadow and they are figuring each other out quickly!

Prince before haircut and after. He looks totally different.

RIP Ricky 2/25
He experienced monthly seizures, then 6 in 30 hrs and emergency staff determined he was suffering from a brain tumor. What a great boy he was and loved by his family.

Martha (now Lola) is doing pretty well. She is sweet and playful, does great with our kids, and gets along superbly with her new fur-sister.

EZ attended a recent Paint with Your Pup fundraising event. He is pictured with one of his family members.

Carter is doing great! He slept in our room on his bed and was very quiet until I got up! We just got back from PetPeople and got food and a harness. He's going to be fine here! Carter and I walked 4 miles yesterday and 3.5 today! And he's eating great! Still putting a little wet in but he's eating well!

This is Bandit, one of our dogs in foster care at the painting event who may be coming in for training.

After having Reece over one year, and racking up almost $1000 in vet bills with a much needed hip surgery, she finally found the right home. Besides her parents, she lives with a boxer and pug.

Rollo accepts a big donation check from PetPeople for us.

She is doing great! She loves to fetch so we can't wait for it to warm up so we can take her to the dog park. She's spoiled rotten by her dad. She loves cuddling with him! That man always buys her a toy when he goes to the store, yet he's not the one that cleans up the mess after she destroys them! 😊 She smiles anytime she's excited. It's the cutest thing ever.