

PUPP Newsletter

AUGUST 2019

We had 20 adoptions in August and these dogs were trained in PUPP.

I just wanted to reach out and give you and the rescue an update on Thor. He is doing great and has fit in nicely with the family. He has really enjoyed this summer as we have been getting him over to the river to swim. We are also slowly seeing him become more independent. While he still wants to be next to us most of the time. He has started not sleeping on the bed and kinda going to his own spot when we are on the couch. Also wanted to show you an updated pic. Thanks again for getting us such a great dog.

Louise isn't sure she's a fan of selfies but she loves her new family! Her name is now Yogi and she's making herself right at home! She is doing SOOOO well. Omg we love her so much, I'm definitely a crazy dog mom (not that I thought I wouldn't be).

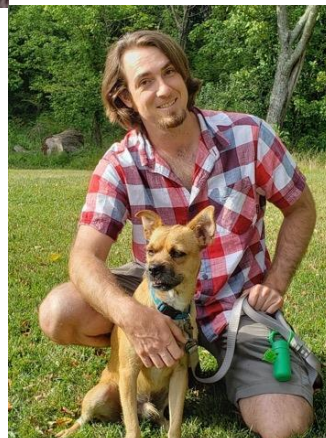

Pedro is doing great. He and Adrian play all the time and started the minute Pedro showed up. He has not been able to escape since I have changed the backyard fence. He is a fun guy and has integrated himself into the household with no problems.

Meera being her sweet self at Wags Dog Park. This young man is part of Pets to Patients program. P2P provides pets to terminally ill and severely handicapped kids and their families to ease the struggles and stress on both person and his/her family. He and his family visited Wags because he loves dogs. Meera nudged his toes and fingers (which made him smile and laugh), snuggled (seen here) and played catch with a tennis ball. She even brought the ball back (miracle!) so he could throw it again.

Mike found a great family.

Chap's selfie with his new parents.

I just wanted to give you an update on Thelma. She is settling in quite well. She and Finley are slowly getting to know each other. Finley is still trying to show her she's the boss but Thelma doesn't really care. All she wants is to be held and have someone to love on. Thelma is still learning how to play. It seems to distress her when Rich plays rough with Finley. But the other day I actually saw Finley and Thelma chase each other for a quick second! And one day they even licked each other's faces. They get along fine, just not bosom buddies yet. It'll come. Just wanted to let you know she's settling in great and we just love her to pieces! And she seems to like us pretty well too.

Arlo lives with this gentleman and provides much needed company for him.

Darby's new hobby!

Foxy's best friend

Sazzy looking pretty after being groomed in her new home.

Bandit

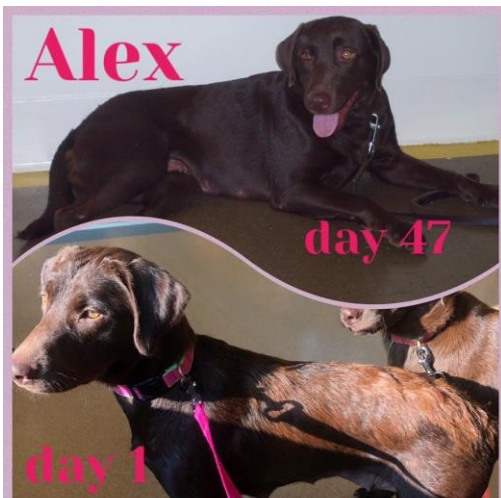

Lucy is enjoying her exercise time.

Dresden working security at the store.

Charlie may be in love.

Zuma chillin' in her foster home.

Chase and family