

PUPP NEWSLETTER

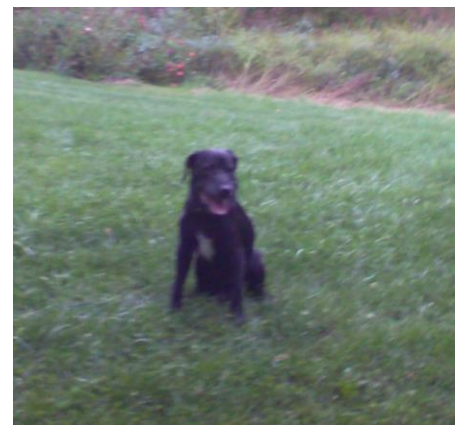

September 2021

September was so busy with adoptions that we're a little behind in getting you the newsletter! We've had many successful adoptions in the past month and continue to bring more dogs into the rescue. We're hopeful we'll get back to regular visits soon and can properly host a "retirement party" for both Mrs P and Tobias! Thank you for all you do and for your commitment to our mission!

"The Dog Whisperer" in our home has made a new friend! Bettie is doing quite well so far. I think her time with your family helped her to adjust a little more quickly. She's still pretty nervous but not as much as we thought. She's so sweet!

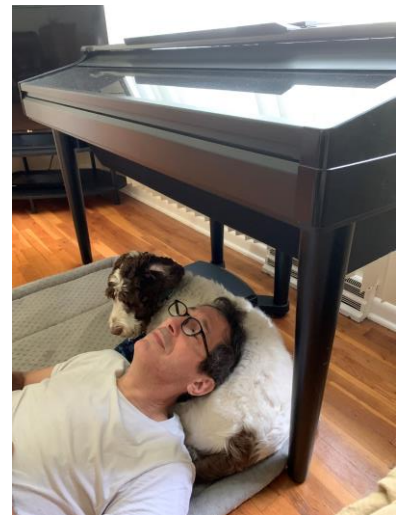

Harvey's new mom is in love with him and reports he's maintaining his weight! He loves hanging out on the couch with her and being spoiled as an only child!

Marge has been great. I am slowly exposing her to more things in life. A trip to the pet store, car rides, meeting new family, going to parks, etc. she is hesitant but does really well. Unfortunately last week we found out our cat Louie had cancer and was declining rapidly. We made the hard decision to put him down. He was only 7 years old so it came as a bit of a shock. We feel so lucky to have Marge to keep us going. She is so so sweet. Each day she rewards us with a new improvement. We are so happy!

Jasper found a great home with a couple of empty nesters, where he's the apple of their eye. It took a bit for him to warm up to them after he got attached to Ashley, but once he was thrown in the deep end, he bonded to them within a couple days. He loves playing with toys, going for walks around the neighborhood, and taking naps with his dad!

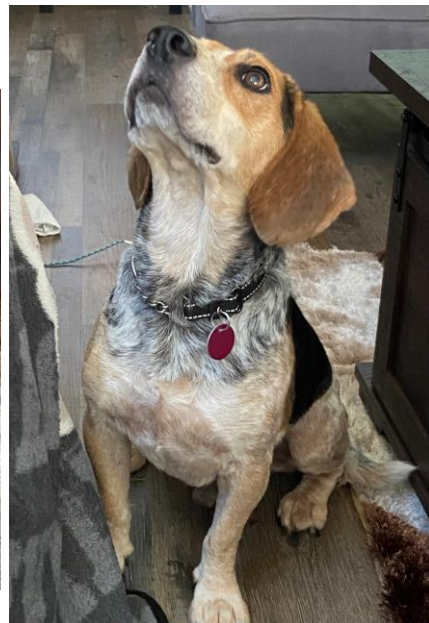

Orla has had quite a transition period, but she's come a long way in the past month! Her oldest human sibling (middle) has been taking the lead on learning how to properly handle her, and he's doing really well with her! We will be using Orla as a guinea pig for a new training session we're offering to new adopters of the prison-trained pups. We have partnered with two professional trainers to offer an hour of training to PUPP adopters to help with their transition to home life. We will let you know how it goes!

Our little buddy Ralph found his forever family! Ralph had a rough start to life as a puppy mill breeding machine, but he's onto better things now! His parents are in love and he's getting along great with his new brother Duke!

Screech, now known as DJ (pronounced DeeJ), is loving life with his new dad! They take regular walks, spend weekends running around the farm, and enjoy lots of time with his yorkie "niece". Seems like a perfect fit!

Sawyer is still awaiting his forever home in foster care. We're hopeful something shakes loose soon! In the meantime, he's adjusting well to home life after a rocky first week out of prison.

Bronco is spending most of his time at Ashley's house for the foreseeable future. He's now had three bite incidents and has been through a month-long, board-and-train program with a professional. His owner and Ashley are working on a plan to manage him going forward.

JoJo is still doing great with her new mom and still loves her ball more than life itself!

Chai has a fan club at Home Depot. Lila is more likely to approach people when they are together. Chai has gotten along great with her mom's sister-in-law's 2 German Shepherds and Sheltie. She is a bit reactive at the groomer though. She keeps everyone laughing and on their toes! Her neck cleared up so well after getting her on Nexguard for possible mites!
